Introduction

The Data Protection Act 1998 is designed to protect the privacy of individuals and to ensure that personal data is processed fairly and lawfully.

It protects personal data by setting terms and conditions that all staff must follow when processing details about any living individual. You can read about these in section 7 of the Act.

Rownhams St John's Primary School collects and uses personal information (referred to in the General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) as personal data) about staff, pupils, parents and other individuals who come into contact with the school. This information is gathered in order to enable the provision of education and other associated functions.
